I am delighted to announce the publication of the Vol. 4, Issue No.1 of Brainwave: A Multidisciplinary Journal, published by Brainware University, West Bengal, India. We have tried our level best so that the authors present novel ideas in their articles.

I am quite confident that the contributions of the authors in this issue will not only cater to contemporary interest in the field of research but will also generate scope of future research in emerging areas.

I take this opportunity to mention that all the submitted papers are peer reviewed by reviewers of eminence.

I am also feeling proud to state that presently conveners of academic conferences are approaching us for publication of their accepted articles in the special issues of our journal. In fact, the number of articles submitted for favour of publications in the journal is also getting increased remarkably. These are all due to increasing recognition of the journal.

I am indebted to the members of the editorial board and honourable reviewers for their dedication to better the quality of publication in the journal. I also congratulate the authors of the published articles for their excellent contributions. I extend my heartfelt thanks to other stakeholders who have been instrumental in implementing timely publication of the journal.

Conclusively, encouraging innovative and novel contributions from authors will be our primary objective.
